Sagehill Design's Portafino Collection takes the best of modern design principles, but adds a casualness that allows the cabinets to complement today's more casual lifestyles.

Constructed with select hardwood solids and veneers, Sagehill Design's craftsmen use fine-furniture construction techniques and hand-rub the expertly applied finish which allows the texture of the wood to show through. Ample storage and practical function are not ignored with features like standard adjustable levelers and interior shelves.

Thoughtfully designed in the modernist tradition and refined with a casualness that reflects contemporary living allows the Portafino Collection from Sagehill Designs to complement your modern lifestyle.
