A powerful directional up-light, our natural copper directional lights are perfect for illuminating trees, tall structures and vast spaces. Using a flame-sealed PAR 36, 35 watt wide flood lamp to cast an ample beam spread against any landscape element. The Oxford can be used in numerous applications including back, shadow or graze lighting. It is also the perfect directional light to use when up lighting columns.

- Natural Copper Construction
- 360 Degree Rotation Shroud
- Adjustable Cast Brass Knuckle
- Anti-Moisture Migration Connections
- Brown ABS Plastic Gravity Stake

IMPORTANT FINISH NOTE: True to one of its most special and sought after effects, our natural copper will, over time, take on a beautiful natural patina with shades of blue & green highlights.

Use of other manufacturers' components and power management system materials will void warranty, listing, and present a possible safety hazard. Please use caution when specifying lamps by selecting the proper voltage, base type, and wattage lamp when designing and installing any lighting system.
