Blum's Zone Planner

Knowing how much storage space is needed allows for better planning. While all kitchens store the same basic needs, what makes each kitchen unique are the priorities and quantities of those storage items. The Zone Planner separates storage goods into five zones which allow you to consider what items you store and in what quantity.

www.blum.com/zoneplanner

Plan Ahead

Based on the DYNAMIC SPACE concept, Blum's Zone Planner allows you to think about how your cabinets will function beneath the surface prior to selecting your cabinets. With this tool, ensure your new kitchen will be laid out efficiently and with plenty of storage space for the items you use most.

Customize

All kitchen storage items are organized according to zone. Move through each zone, selecting the items you want to store in your new kitchen. Ensure there is enough space designated for your items by selecting whether you have fewer, average or more of each storage item.

Save and Print

Save your storage list and come back to look over it later. After you have recognized what items you will need to store in your new kitchen, and in what quantity, print your results so you will be well prepared to meet with your kitchen designer and one step closer to a more efficient, comfortable kitchen.
