We're beating the drum about the classic shape of the Fantine Chandelier with its uptick in style due to the Raj mirror finish on the shade that strikingly resembles mercury glass. Fitted into the wrought iron frame in strips, the interplay of patterns on the glass creates a strong presence even when the light fixture is not illuminated. The Pyrite bronze finish on the metal of this eight-light chandelier echoes the mottled tones in the mirror to make this fixture a serious hit in any number of décor styles.
