Lasagna in crosta (Lasagna en crouete)

with seafood sauce in Bolognese friggione soup

Ingredients

For the lasagna:

- 4 sheets of egg pasta
- Extra-virgin olive oil

For the seafood sauce:

- 4 prawns
- 8 mussels
- 8 carpet shell clams
- 8 tartufi di mare (sea truffles)
- 4 squid
- 4 small cuttlefish
- 2 ripe tomatoes, garlic and parsley

For the friggione:

- 1 red onion
- ½ cup prosciutto, cubed
- 1 cup tomato puree

Directions

For the friggione:

- Julienne the prosciutto cubes and the onion; combine and lightly fry, add tomato puree, a pinch of salt, and a pinch of sugar, and cook over low heat for about 20 minutes.

For the seafood sauce:

- In a pan with oil, garlic, and parsley and a ladle of water, open the mussels, clams, and tartufi di mare for 2 minutes over high heat.
- Removed from heat, shell the mollusks, strain the water, and thicken with a bit of butter and flour (should be like a béchamel sauce).
- Cut the cuttlefish, squid, and prawns into large pieces, sauté in a pan with the tomatoes for a few minutes; add the mollusks.

For the lasagna:

- Cook the pasta in salted water. Butter 4 aluminum molds and line them with the pasta, add the seafood sauce and the cream sauce made with the mollusk water.
- Fold pasta over the filling to close. Bake at 350° for approximately 10 minutes.

To Serve

Pour the friggione into small bowls. Remove lasagna from molds and place on top. Garnish with a drizzle of extra-virgin olive oil. Serve warm.
