A network that just works. For you.

Google Wifi is a new kind of Wi-Fi solution that replaces your router (and works with your modem and ISP) to give you seamless coverage throughout your home. Compatible with any internet provider.

Google-powered.

Get everything you love about Google — smarts, security and simplicity — in your home Wi-Fi network. We've re-thought everything about routers to create an experience that's reliable, flexible and handles your devices and online activities, seamlessly.

Consistently strong signal.

Get the best signal on every device, anytime. Google's Network Assist software eliminates slowdowns so you and your family can keep doing the things you love without missing a beat. And if you're streaming a movie or joining an important video call, prioritize that device for the fastest speeds when it matters most.

Whole-home coverage.¹

Enjoy a fast signal in every room, on every device thanks to a new type of connected system. Replace your router with a set of Google Wifi points that work together to cover your home in fast, reliable Wi-Fi.
