

Nest Doorbell (wired)

Know more. No charging.

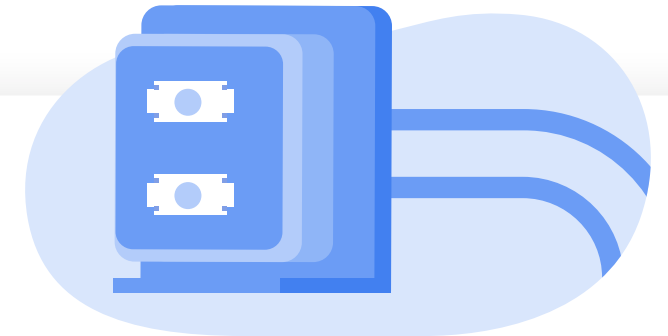

See what's happening at the door.

The wired Nest Doorbell knows the difference between a person, package, animal, and vehicle. So people can get alerts about what matters most – no subscription required.¹

Peace of mind with 24/7 live view.

There's no need to recharge batteries, so customers can see activity at their front door around the clock.¹ And they don't need to worry about running out of charge while they're on vacation.

Works with compatible doorbell transformers.

It's designed to replace a wired doorbell and requires a 16-24VAC, 10-40VA rated transformer and chime (both sold separately).² Keep a compatible transformer on your truck for simple installation.

Better together.

Customers can see who's at the door on Nest Hub, or hear visitor announcements on Nest Mini or another compatible speaker or display (all sold separately).

Did you know?
Your customers can get an extended 3-year warranty with professional installation.

Reliable video security.

Go back in time with more video history.

With 3 hours of event video history included in the Google Home app, it's easy for people to see what they missed.¹

Wi-Fi problems? Not a problem.

If Wi-Fi goes out, the Nest Doorbell automatically records events for up to an hour.³

Never miss a beat.
Customers can watch 2-second previews and 5-minute clips of important activity.

Know what's happening and where.

See more at the door, day or night.

HDR helps people see details in sunlight or shadows, while night vision helps them see in the dark.

Cover it all with continuous video recording.

With a Nest Aware Plus subscription (sold separately), the Nest Doorbell can record what's happening at the door around the clock for up to 10 days.⁴
