

Home Outdoor Camera

Connects with Nexia™ Home Intelligence

Monitor and record the activities outside your home with the Schlage Home outdoor camera.* You can view what's happening outside your home even when you're not there—all from any Internet-enabled smart phone, tablet or computer, thanks to Nexia Home Intelligence.

*The Schlage Outdoor Camera doesn't use Z-wave wireless technology like other Nexia products. It only requires an Internet connection and communicates directly with your wireless router.

► Keep an eye on the exterior of your home day or night with infrared capabilities for nighttime video.

► Remotely monitor your vacation home or property.

► Set scenes to record and store video and watch it later at your convenience.

► Record video of anyone who approaches your door with motion activated recording.

TO ACTIVATE FULL REMOTE FUNCTIONALITY

The Nexia Home Bridge is sold separately and required for remote access with Nexia Home Intelligence. It allows the Internet to interface with Nexia products (locks, thermostats, lights, camera, etc.) enabling full remote functionality. To activate the Bridge and create a Nexia account, visit mynexia.com.

With Nexia Home Intelligence, you can keep your home within reach—from wherever you are. Most Internet-enabled devices can be connected to the Nexia Bridge, the system's main controller, to provide the interface needed to easily monitor and control some of the most basic daily functions of the home, including security, lights, HVAC, cameras and more.

Nexia Home Intelligence was pioneered by Schlage® and Trane®, two brands that have been innovating solutions for the home for many years. With Nexia's revolutionary ability to transform the lifestyles of today's homeowners, several other well-known household brands have developed products to integrate into the Nexia Home Intelligence system as well.
